TABLES

Table 1. Nyamboli settlements1

1. Introduction

This is an annotated wordlist of the Nyambeenje language, part of the Dogon group, spoken in northern Mali. The wordlist was collected from a group of villagers in Ficko on the 8th of March 2005. The informants were;

Bakari Tarawali
Boureima Tarawali
assisted by;
Isa Karambe
Musa Traore
Hamadi Traore
Usman Traore
Yaya Traore
Boka Traore

I would like to thank them for their patience as the elicitation session was long and sometimes passed through several languages. The wordlist was collected as a ‘one-shot’ exercise and the transcription must therefore be regarded as preliminary. This analysis was prepared by Roger Blench, who added the comparative observations¹. This document is being circulated to scholars for comment.

2. Location, history and sociolinguistic situation

2.1 Nomenclature

As with all groups in the Ampari area, nomenclature is highly variable. Elders in Ficko called their language Nyambeenje and gave Nyamboli as the name of the people speaking it. This term was also given in Kema, but attached to a slightly different list of villages.

2.2 Location and settlements

The settlements of the Nyamboli according to the elders of Ficko are as in Table 1;

Table 1. Nyamboli settlements

Official	IPA-like	1987 pop.	N	W
Bandiougou	Banjugu	2652	14:29:50	3:54:20
Ficko	Fiko	726	14:27:30	3:54:10
Kakori		174	14:29:20	3:49:00
Onjouougou	ɔnjɔɔ
Taagu	Taagu
Gona	Gɔna
Tena	Tena
Magu	Magu

Figures from the 1987 population census and the GPS-determined locations are given where available. The first three villages are listed as Mombo-speaking, a term rejected by those we interviewed.

2.3 Language status

The Nyambeenje language is presently being transmitted to the children. The second language of Nyambeenje speakers is Fulfulde but French is known to schoolchildren and migrant workers. There are perhaps 5000 speakers of the language, although this depends a great deal on where the boundaries are drawn with Mombo proper.

2.4 Nyambeenje culture and history

The Nyamboli are today all Muslim.

2.5 The classification of Nyambeenje

Calame-Griaule (1956:66) says,

¹ The authors are grateful to the Swiss Ethno-archaeological project for providing funding for this survey.

Edyenge dō (ou idyoli dōhge)

Il est parlé dans les cantons de Pignari Makou et Pignari Tougoumé par environ 6.000 Dogon. Certains villages de Pignari Makou parlent un sous-dialecte appelé āmbāhge (Baboy, Tégueli, Nyongono, Pâ, Koko, Nyamina).

N.B. Ces deux dialectes sont réunis par les Dogon du centre sous le nom de kolum so, « dialectes du couchant »

This seems to refer more to the nearby groups than the language described here, but Bandiougou, at least is included in Hochstetler et al. (2004) under Mombo. The closest language to Nyambeenje is Mombo, with which it has been conflated. Beyond, there are clear similarities with the Ampari cluster, spoken further south.

3. Phonology

The phonology of Nyambeenje is based on rapid observations and should therefore be regarded as tentative at this stage.

3.1 Vowels

Nyambeenje probably has seven phonemic vowels;

	Front	Central	Back
Close	i		u
Close-Mid	e		o
Open-Mid	ɛ		ɔ
Open		a

Nyambeenje permits all vowels to be long or short and all short vowels can be nasalised. Examples of nasalised long vowels are not so far recorded, but certainly exist in other Dogon lects. Nyambeenje and other Dogon languages permit sequences of tone-bearing vowels without any consonants. These can be in contrast with sequences of vowel plus semi-vowel.

3.2 Consonants

Nyambeenje consonants are as follows:

	Bilabial	Alveolar	Alveopalatal	Palatal	Velar	Labial-velar	Glottal
Plosive	p b	t d		[c] j	k g
Nasal	m	n		ɲ	ŋ
Trill		r
Fricative		s z	[ʃ] [ʒ]		ɣ		h
Approximant	v			y		w
Lateral Approximant		l

There appears to be certain amount of allophonic or free variation between voiced and voiceless alveolars and velars especially in medials. Thus a single elicitation session two speakers may produce the same word with k/g/, t/d. The same is true of the palatal forms of alveolar fricatives; these seem to be in free variation with non-palatal forms. [ʃ] and [ʒ] are may not be distinct phonemes and /s/ and /ʃ/ can be produced in parallel especially in initial position, perhaps reflecting perceptions of sentence context. However, in some words, /ʃ/ can be strongly palatalised, possibly a remnant of a lost syllable.

/dʒ/ [=j] is apparently a well-established phoneme, but /tʃ/ [=c] occurs in the single example, /ciũ/ ‘canoe’, which is cognate with the more usual /kin/.

Implosive /b/ and /d/ were recorded in a few lexical items. It is not yet clear whether these represent phonemes or normal speaker variation.

ladder	ɓila
necklace	paɓe

3.3 Tones

Nyambeenje has two tones, High and Low. For example;

mud, clay	ɔ́lɔ́
cloud	óló
race/running	dúgú
village	dùgù

Glides are rare and confined mainly to pronouns;

we, us	mǐ
they, them	kě

4. Morphology

4.1 Nouns

Plurals of nouns in Nyambeenje are typically formed by the suffix -(n)ge. Thus;

cow	na pl. naange
goat	una pl. unange
tooth	ini pl. inige

The rules structuring the insertion of a nasal and lengthening of the stem vowel remain to be determined. One irregular plural has been identified;

eye	gire pl. ge
-----	--------------------

5. Nyambeenge wordlist

The wordlist was elicited via French, Fulfulde and Bambara. This is not entirely satisfactory as pervasive multi-lingualism among the Dogon means that speakers could well be influenced by the phonology or lexis of the second language.

The most likely uncertainties in transcription are vowel length, nasalisation versus syllable-final nasals and the distinction between /e/ and /ɛ/ and /o/ and /ɔ/.
